ICON LEGEND

THESE SYMBOLS CALL OUT SPECIAL FEATURES

10  BUCK
POST FALLS

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS
POST FALLS, IDAHO

Buck Knives is a family business with a dedication to creating quality products. I am constantly reminded of the many milestones that have brought us to where we are today. Our heritage is strong, and the legacy of my Father, Grandfather, and Great Grandfather continue to drive our determination for trustworthy products and high standards.

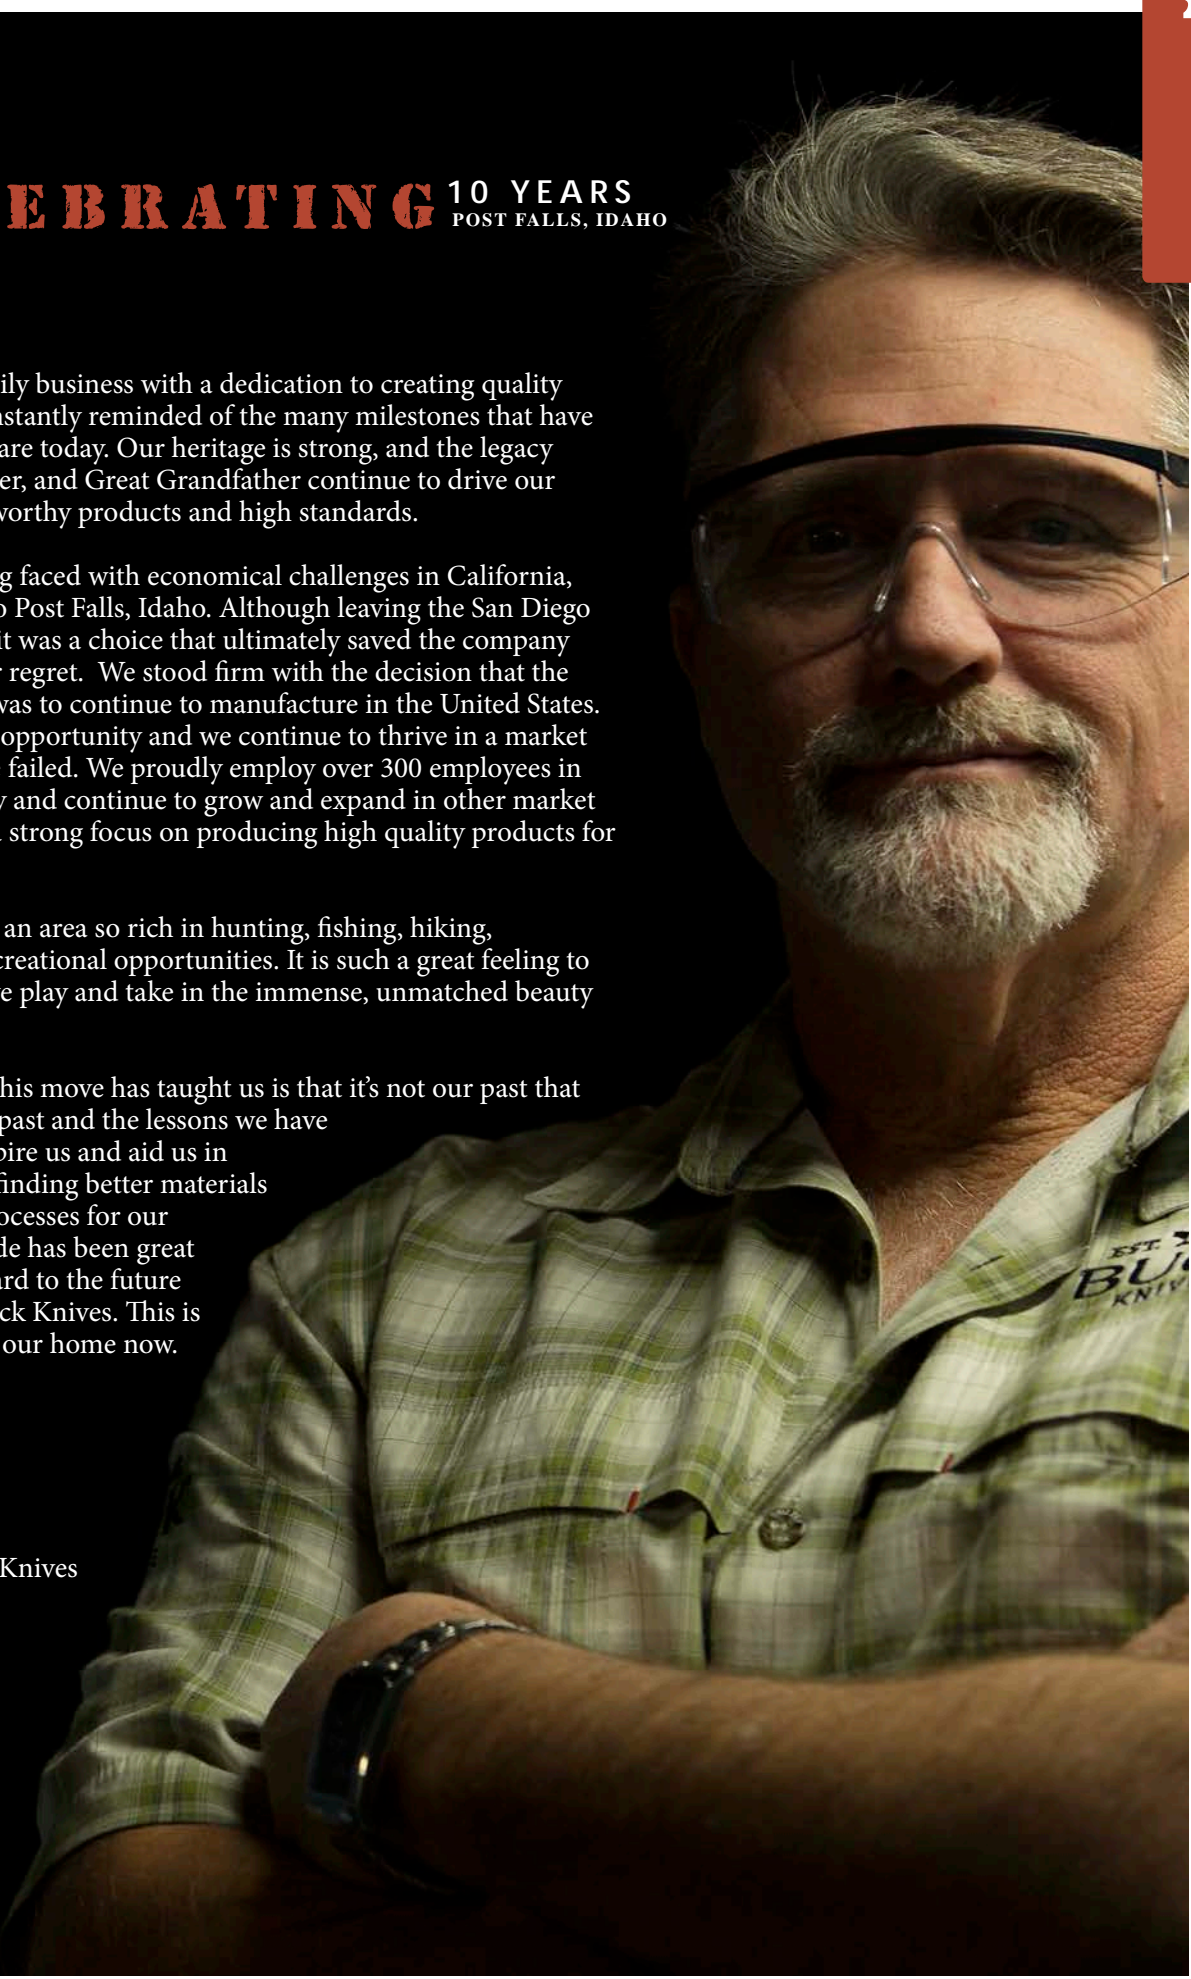

Ten years ago, after being faced with economical challenges in California, Buck Knives relocated to Post Falls, Idaho. Although leaving the San Diego area was a tough move, it was a choice that ultimately saved the company and one that I will never regret. We stood firm with the decision that the legacy of our company was to continue to manufacture in the United States. The move provided this opportunity and we continue to thrive in a market where many others have failed. We proudly employ over 300 employees in our Post Falls, ID facility and continue to grow and expand in other market segments, maintaining a strong focus on producing high quality products for our consumers.

We are blessed to live in an area so rich in hunting, fishing, hiking, swimming and other recreational opportunities. It is such a great feeling to be able to work where we play and take in the immense, unmatched beauty of Northern Idaho.

One of the lessons that this move has taught us is that it's not our past that entirely defines us. Our past and the lessons we have learned are there to inspire us and aid us in creating better designs, finding better materials and defining the best processes for our products. The past decade has been great to us, and we look forward to the future and what it holds for Buck Knives. This is where we belong, this is our home now.

CJ Buck
President & CEO, Buck Knives

We divide our products into three main categories:

OUTDOOR: The knives in this category have the rugged durability and no-nonsense functionality that defines this way of life. Designed for unquestionable reliability under extreme use, these knives are made for the hunter, angler, hiker, camper and anyone else whose outdoor experience might depend upon them. This category covers Hunting, Fishing, Tactical, Survival and Recreational.

EVERYDAY: People who carry a knife everyday do so for one very important reason - because they use it everyday. The knives they carry must be as reliable as they are functional, designed to perform effortlessly in whatever lifestyle they are a part of.

LEGACY: For discriminating collectors, knives are as much about aesthetics as they are about functionality. From knives that are hand crafted from rare materials to ones that represent the most significant innovations in a time-honored craft, Legacy knives are made with a craftsmanship and commitment to quality that elevate them from functional blades to exceptional works of art, and are often passed down through generations.

BUCK'S PRODUCT LEVELS

Assigning our knives to categories is helpful in guiding your customers to the right kind of knife for their needs. At the same time we recognize that consumers are tightening budgets, so we break them down into choices by price point. It's as simple as "good-better-best," with great value at every level.

245 LEATHERS MATTHEW U.S. NAVY SEAL

Special Warfare Operator First Class (SEAL) Matthew J. Leathers was a highly decorated combat veteran with numerous awards, which include the Bronze Star, Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medal, Afghanistan Campaign Medal, Iraq Campaign Medal and Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medal.

Matt enjoyed running 100-mile ultra-marathons and Open Ocean Free Diving. It was during a free diving exercise that he was lost at sea in February 2013. The phrase, Matt Would Go, was coined by the leadership of Seal Delivery Vehicle Team One in recognition of his courage and unflinching devotion to duty.

While much of what Matt did during his nine years as a U.S. Navy SEAL must remain secret, his fellow SEALS have honored his memory with these simple words: MATT WOULD GO. His father, Tim Leathers, has created the Matt Would Go company as a tribute to the dauntless courage of his son and his fellow SEALS around the globe.

During his nine years with the US Navy SEALS, Matthew, known as a perfectionist, designed a knife that held up to his high standards. He used steel from the coil spring of a scrapped Humvee and built his own forge from an old mail box. Tim has entered into an agreement with Buck Knives to make the exact knife Matt designed, and Buck Knives is proud to bring this to market.

He authored numerous articles for national magazines and published a Guidebook to the Sierra Nevada of California. Ron spent much of his time practicing and studying skills with native populations around the world.

Ron teamed up with Buck Knives in 2010 to produce his design for the Hoodlum, an ultimate survival knife. Unfortunately, Ron passed away in 2011 so he was only here to see the release of his first blade, the Hoodlum. Ron left us with more designs of his own, including the smaller Punk blade and the Thug. We are happy to bring his expertise into our survival products, and Ron's years of experience in the wilderness will live on in the pages of wilderness survival and Buck Knives history.

SURVIVAL

WHEN SURVIVAL DEPENDS ON IT!

Buck Knives is committed to providing products that save lives, and felt it was time to separate our Survival/Tactical category into two categories as we continue to develop product that will perform under the direst of circumstances.

Everyone knows a knife is essential to survival if one finds themselves stranded in the wilderness or extreme weather. Some ways knives ensure survival are:

- Building shelter
- Self defense
- Carving a spear or other hunting tools
- Skinning game
- Cutting yourself free of vines, ropes, seatbelts or other entrapments
- Testing the compactness of snow to determine avalanche risk.
- Striking flint against a blade to create a spark
- Clearing pathways
- Cutting materials to make a rope
- Flashing the blade to signal distress
- Emergency medical procedures
- Collecting fire tinder

He's currently filming his 8th season of this show with the 7th season airing Q1 and Q2 2014 and will be shooting the 100th episode in 2014. BigWater Adventures has also had the good fortune to be nominated for and win the following awards, listed below.

"I've been a BUCK man since my Grandfather gave me my very first folding pocket knife when I was probably way too young to have it. The 110 Folding Hunter followed me all the way through college. Though the knife was eventually lost, the memories of my adventures with my BUCK will remain with me forever. I skinned my first rabbit, squirrel, and deer (in that order)...with it and have always unconsciously reached into my pocket whenever I or anyone else needed a blade. When my show Big Water Adventures afforded me the opportunity to connect with Buck Knives, I was not only thrilled to be involved personally with BUCK, but also to see that BUCK has crossed into MY world of fishing for a living. The Clearwater Series Fillet knives incorporate BUCK's legendary utility, function, quality, and lifetime commitment to service that made BUCK the company it is today. When I'm not fishing and filming using BUCK's ever expanding line of fishing products, my closest friends know that hunting is my passion. It's where you'll find me on MY time, and you'll always see BUCK on my hip." - Mark Davis

NUGENT TED

HOST: SPIRIT OF THE WILD

www.tednugent.com

Select few professionals are possessed of the skill, passion and sheer tenacity to break record after record in their chosen field. And fewer still can stake that claim in more than one arena.

To millions of music lovers, Ted Nugent has carved a permanent place in rock & roll history as the guitar-shredding showman, selling more than 40 million albums, performing more than 6,500 (!) high-octane concerts, and continuing to set attendance records at venues around the globe.

To further millions, Nugent is the nation's most outspoken proponent of our 1st and 2nd Amendment rights, conducting thousands of pro-gun, pro-freedom, pro-America interviews in major media worldwide. He has served continuously on the Board of Directors of the NRA since his initial election in 1995, where he consistently sets records for amassing the highest number of votes received by an individual board member.

Nugent is dedicated to preserving our great outdoor heritage for future generations, and along with wife Shemane, regularly hosts hunts for sick and terminally ill children with Hunt of a Lifetime, Hunt for a Cure, and via his own Kamp for Kids. A recipient of myriad commendations from state police, sheriff departments, FBI and police agencies, Nugent has been lauded for his Freedom's Angels Foundation benefitting our troops, along with work as a national spokesman for D.A.R.E., Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Pass It On Outdoor Mentors Program.

Nugent has been named favorite Hunting Personality by the readers of Outdoors Magazine. He was inducted into the National Bowhunters Hall of Fame, marking the pinnacle of recognition for Nugent as a bona fide Bowhunting Legend of the 21st Century, acknowledged for his skills as an outdoorsman, and for his tireless promotion of bowhunting via his writings for over 40 publications, his New York Times best-sellers Ted, White & Blue: The Nugent Manifesto and God, Guns and Rock 'n' Roll, along with Kill It and Grill It, BloodTrails and BloodTrails II, and his award-winning "Ted Nugent Spirit of the Wild" television show seen exclusively on Outdoor Channel--where he proudly serves as Ambassador for the network.
